

Human rights

in Wonderland

Gruppe

In Unhappyland there are so many gray places that you can see people who are SAD. There is a boy with big dreams who wants to have a little more freedom of speech but he is living in very difficult and gloomy world.

Tom:
- Oh, I want to be a journalist because I want to share my opinion out loud.

Erasmus+

Yes, of course, you should follow your dreams.

No way, there is no chance for you to reach your goals.

Erasmus+

I lost my dreams,
I can't share my opinion
in this world with discrimination...

This is reality when you haven't got all of your human rights.

Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression, this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.
